Director’s Report:

A. The Training Report shows a surge in this most recent quarter with YTD enrollment at 4517. Overall the quarterly numbers are down 250 from this time last year.

Rice stated that the IFSAC Site Visit Team will be here June 4 – 6, 2013. He stated that they may ask for a few of the Commissioners to participate so they can hear from the governing authority about the institution.

Rice reported that Cengage/Delmar is getting out of the public safety publishing market. The review process is underway for a recommendation of a new FFI/II textbook. This recommendation will be presented in the July Quarterly Commission Meeting.

The Regional Coordinators have met to develop training plans for every county in their region. The Line of Duty Death Response Program training has been delivered and all coordinators are prepared to respond as needed.

The high school partnership for grades 9 through 12 has been launched. Students statewide will be able to enter the bridge program after high school. Several counties have contacted us to request support in establishing programs for the next school year. The curriculum will be provided by AFC and we will assist school systems in identifying a local certified fire instructor.

The instructor of the year recognition was presented to Chief Gary Patrick from Silverhill VFD. He will attend FDIC in April.

Modifications were made to the Strategic Plan to include all firefighter associations. Reciprocity student numbers have been added to the database for tracking purposes.

The bombing incident in Boston spurred the development of a four-hour seminar in training for explosives emergencies for fire and EMS personnel. These seminars will be conducted in May.

Chairman Zaragoza asked which Commissioners would be available for IFSAC Site visit. Commissioner Wyatt said he would be available.

Director’s Report:

A. The Training Report shows the quarterly numbers are up 299 from this time last year.

Rice reported that: training is increasing in each county in the state of Alabama; the Training Section is dramatically improving the quality of AFC course evaluations by using software to track data, thereby increasing our efforts to improve courses and to review instructor effectiveness; and the articulation agreement with University of West Alabama opens up a whole new pathway for firefighters and paramedics to receive a Bachelor of Science in Technology.

Rice gave special recognition to Kim Davis, Reid Vaughan, Mary Beth Finn and the Testing/Certification staff for their work having thirty-seven levels submitted for the IFSAC Site Visit.

The high school partnerships are moving quickly with nine school systems that have hired facility and are ready to provide our programs. The goal is for a high school student to graduate and, once they have turned 18, to immediately take the test for Certified Volunteer Firefighter and possibly Basic EMT. They will then only need the Bridge Program to be career ready if they choose that path.
